

LUTHERANS OF ORANGE COUNTY MAKE WAR WORK RECORD

ESTIMATE COAST ROAD GRADING WILL COST $76,000

PROTECTION OF CANYON ROAD FAVORED IN REPORT

Reports at Patriotic League Meeting Show $44,850 Liberty Bonds Bought

Are the Lutherans of Orange county patriotic? If active participation in war work may be regarded as evidence of patriotism, they certainly are patriotic.

This was brought out at a meeting of the executive board of the American Lutheran Patriotic League, held last night at the Trinity Lutheran assembly hall.

The Liberty Loan committees, representing the four churches of the Lutheran Synod of Missouri in Orange county, reported that members of their congregations had invested $44,850 in government bonds of the third Liberty Loan.

These figures are distributed as follows:

St. John's Lutheran, Orange.....	$26,500
Zion's Lutheran, Anaheim.....	8,000
Trinity Lutheran, Santa Ana.....	7,100
St. Paul's Lutheran, Olive.....	3,250
Total	$44,850

In order to appreciate these figures, one must know something about the size of these congregations. The four churches have a total membership of 300 voters and 950 communicants, not in addition to, but including the voting members.

The reports on the sale of War Savings Stamps were incomplete. As far as reported, Thrift and War Savings stamps to the amount of $1,898 have been purchased by the church members in Orange, Santa Ana and Olive.

Over 300 Red Cross Members

A total of 300 members were reported as belonging to the American National Red Cross Society. The Ladies of St. John's Lutheran in Orange have organized an auxiliary of the Orange chapter and meet three times every week in their own rooms.

The League has at present 298 members, according to the report of the membership committee. A resolution was adopted to donate 50 per cent of the membership fees to the Lutheran Church Board for Army and Navy.

Plea for Victory and Peace

President Wilson's proclamation concerning the observance of Decoration Day was discussed. It was unanimously resolved that all Lutheran churches in Orange county, in accordance with our noble President's recommendation, should hold patriotic services in their churches, with prayers for victory and peace.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Adolph Dittmer of Orange, after the singing of "America" and a short musical program.

At the close of the meeting, Alfred Huhn, secretary, read "The American's creed," which was greeted with applause.

The Rev. W. A. Theiss invited the Executive Board to hold its next meeting at Olive.

Lutherans Vs. Kaiser

"The Lutheran Church Versus the Kaiser," is the title of a patriotic sermon the Rev. E. J. Rudnick, pastor of the local church, is preparing to give on Decoration Day.

Supervisors Hear Report on Newport Bay-to-Laguna Beach Proposed Road

Grading of a road along the coastline from Newport Bay to Laguna Beach would cost $76,000, according to estimates presented to the board of supervisors today by J. L. McBride, county surveyor. This estimate provides for a 20-foot roadway to a six per cent grade. The strip of road would be eight miles long. Its high cost will be due to the many deep canyons which will need to be traversed, making a great deal of grading necessary. No action was taken by the supervisors.

Call For Paving Bids

The board instructed the county clerk to advertise for bids on several road projects, the bids to be opened on June 5 at 2 p. m. Bids were asked on paying Brea-Olinda Section 3, portion of La Mirada avenue west of La Habra and Main street in La Habra, portion of La Palma and Patt streets leading from the state highway north of Anaheim to the Anaheim sugar factory.

After completing the day's business, the board adjourned to meet again next Tuesday, May 21.

BELGIAN-ITALIAN FORCE IS READY TO PROCEED TO FRONT

A PACIFIC PORT, May 14.—Belgian and Italian troops from Russia were here today ready to go to the French and Italian fronts. They arrived yesterday on an American transport from Vladivostok. There are 260 Belgians and 407 Italians in the party.

The Belgians were part of an expeditionary force which fought for two years and a half in Russia. The Italians were mostly former prisoners captured from the Austrians. Natives of the Trentino, their sympathies were entirely Italian, but they were drafted into the Austrian army and forced to fight against Italy. Captured by the Russians, these Italians volunteered to fight for Italy.

Officials from the French, Italian, Belgian and British consulates extended an official welcome to the troops.

James Gordon Bennett Died This Morning at Paris; Was Owner of New York Herald

NEW YORK, May 14.—James Gordon Bennett, proprietor of the New York Herald, died at his home, Villa Namouna, in Baeulieu, near Nice, France, this morning, according to a cable message received here today.

Bennett died at 9:45 a. m., the message said. He had been in ill health for some time.

Bennett was one of the best known figures in the newspaper world. He was born in New York May 10, 1841, and was the son of James Gordon Bennett, Sr.

Educated abroad by private tutors, he returned to the United States in 1856. He assumed control of the New York Herald on the death of his father in 1872. Although residing in Paris, he actively controlled the Herald by cable. He published a Paris edition of the Herald and for some time published a London edition.

At his own expense, Bennett sent Henry Stanley to Africa to find Livingstone in 1874-77. He also fitted out the Jeanette Polar expedition in 1879. With John W. Mackay, he established the Commercial Cable Company in 1883. In 1886 Bennett won a yacht race from Sandy Hook to the Isle of Wight with his yacht "Henrietta" and in 1879 participated in a race from Queenstown to New York with his yacht "Dauntless."

EVERY MEAL A POISONOUS INFECTION

Few folks suffering from kidney and bladder troubles ever think that the meals which they are taking are hastening their death. Every morsel of food taken gives up its quantity of uric acid. This poison is taken into the system through a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder. In the healthy man nature provides an outlet for this poison. Those in ill-health must take a medicinal help to drive this death-dealing poison from the system. For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules have been doing this work. Present Highway Route, With Piling and Trestle, Recommended By Jones

"The lower canyon route," to be protected with a double row of piling and with a 250-foot concrete pile trestle opposite Sulphur Slide, was recommended today by George W. Jones, assistant to the road commissioner of Los Angeles, in a written report to the Board of Supervisors on the much-talked-of and much-worked-on Santa Ana canyon road. The recommendations differ somewhat from those of County Surveyor J. L. McBride. Where McBride recommended 600 feet of pile trestle at Sulphur Slide and rock protection, Jones recommends 250 feet of pile trestle and double row of piling protection.

The report was read to the supervisors at their meeting this morning, but no action was taken. The report in full is as follows:

Los Angeles, Cal., May 14, 1918. Honorable Board of Supervisors of Orange County, Santa Ana, Calif. Gentlemen:

In compliance with the request of a committee from your Honorable Board for a recommendation of the most feasible and economical route for the construction of a paved highway at the mouth of the Santa Ana canyon, around Sulphur Slide, and adjacent section of canyon, after an examination of the three proposed routes and the data submitted by County Surveyor J. L. McBride, I beg to submit the following:

That the lower canyon route be followed for the following reasons:

First: Practically the elimination of grades, it being an established fact that the cost of transportation over a 6% grade, as compared to an approximately level grade, is in the rate of 3 to 1.

Second: The elimination of excessive curvature;

Third: The canyon route being 1900 feet shorter than the slope route and 3500 feet shorter than the route over the ridge, which makes a saving of $9000.00 and $15,000.00, respectively, in the paving, amount and character of materials to be excavated, there would be $30,000.00 and $55,000.00, respectively, in favor of the lower route;

Fourth: The approximate $25,000.00, which has previously been spent in grading and protecting the canyon route, would be practically a total loss if this route were abandoned.

While there will always be a certain element of danger and uncertainty in the maintenance of a roadway on the canyon route, it is my opinion that this maintenance will be more than offset by the above mentioned facts, and, also, by the possibility of slides extending beyond the present limits of Sulphur Slide, which would endanger the construction on the so-called "Slope Route."

I recommend that further investigation be made as to the quality of the material in Sandstone Cliff, and if found suitable for rip rap purposes, that roadway be constructed around the point of this hill a suitable distance above high water and the material from this cut be used for protection purposes above and below this point. If material is found not suitable for this purpose, or that cut will not stand, I recommend the construction of a concrete pile trestle, with a double line of pile protection, piles being set on 8 foot centers, staggered, and driven to at least 20 foot penetration where possible, and faced with triangular mesh wire fencing; willows to be planted along outer and inner faces.

Opposite Sulphur Slide, it is my recommendation that gap in retaining wall be bridged with 250 feet of concrete pile trestle; that 1200 feet of double line pile protection be constructed along outer face of present wall, and that exposed ends of wall be protected by rip rap or curtain walls. Pile protection to be similar to that around Sandstone Cliff, except that centers be decreased to 5 feet for a distance of approximately 400 feet at a point where main channel strikes wall.

In connection with the Sulphur Slide construction, it is my opinion that more adequate drainage should be provided along the toe of slide; also that edge of roadway be located approximately 15 feet from face of wall and fill sloped down to meet same.

Yours very truly,
GEO. W. JONES,
Assistant to Road Commissioner.

LEONARD HAS THREE OPPONENTS TONIGHT

OAKLAND, May 14.—Benny Leonard will take on three opponents for two rounds each in a soldiers' benefit boxing card here tonight.

But Benny's lightweight title is not at stake. He made it clear that one regular fight during his Pacific Coast tour is enough, and the rest must be sparring matches. He volunteered to take on any number of men in the same night.

Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion, sprained a wrist in his last match and will not appear on the card. Other four-round bouts tonight are Jimmy Dundee vs. Harry Pelsinger and Bob McAllister vs. Billy Shaffer. Those are in addition to a lot of soldier-sparing bouts.

CLUNE'S IS OPENED IN NEW VAUDEVILLE

Can See No Reason Why Schlesinger Should Have Been Singled Out

Saturday was the first time that Clune's Theater in Santa Ana has given a program under the new arrangement entered into by its manager, L. A. Schlesinger, who has a city license to conduct that theater for vaudeville performances on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Those who saw the program for the last week declared that it was an exceptionally good vaudeville program. Objection has been made that the recent protest against the opening of Clune's for Saturday and Sunday night performances only was not fair to Manager Schlesinger in that there was no reason whatever why he should have been singled out for "mention" in the protest.

The City Trustees received a communication from the W. C. T. U. in regard to the matter, but the fact that other theaters were running on Sunday nights was not dealt with in that communication. Manager Schlesinger states that he wants to go on the same basis with all of the show house managers. That is, his rights to conduct a theater on Sunday nights are the same as those of any other person in the city. He says that he proposes to put on only clean vaudeville, and he hopes to be able to constantly improve the quality.

SIERRA CLUB TO HIKE SANTIAGO PEAK MAY 25 AND 26

Los Angeles Party Plans Outing; Local People Are Invited to Join Them

What is being looked forward to as one of the most enjoyable outings of the Sierra Club during the season is a hike up Santiago peak (Saddleback), which is scheduled for Saturday, May 25. The night of the 25th will be spent at the top of the hill, and the return will be made on Sunday, May 26. Local people are invited to join the party for the trip. It is considered probable that 25 to 30 Los Angeles members of the club will make the trip, over 15 having already made reservations.

The Los Angeles party leaves Los Angeles on the 8:06 car, arriving at Santa Ana 9:30 a. m. Saturday, May 25th. From Santa Ana the club will go to the Joplin ranch by auto truck, leaving Fourth and Main promptly at 10 o'clock, arriving at Joplin ranch, where lunch will be eaten before starting up the trail.

Start up about 1 p. m. and arrive at the summit from 5 to 6 p. m., in time for supper and make camp for the night. Sunday the party will come down via the new Holy Jim trail and meet the auto truck at the tin mine, getting back to Santa Ana about 6 p. m. The fare on the auto truck from Santa Ana to Joplin's and return will be about $1. Packing dunnage up and back via burro will be about 25 cents per person. Each person will need a sleeping bag or good, warm blankets and grub enough for four meals. Weight of dunnage limited to 20 pounds per person.

While this is a regular Sierra Club trip, any who are not members of the club are welcome and invited to share in the pleasures and provisions of this trip. It is hoped that many Santa Ana people who have never climbed to the top of Saddleback and seen the wonderful view of Southern California that can be obtained there will plan to take this trip. Any who can go in their own machines can do so, making the expense less. Machines can be left at Joplin's.

Any desiring to go on the auto truck must reserve seats not later than Wednesday, May 22nd. And all who are going are requested to notify J. H. Scott, room 20, court house, Santa Ana, phone 941-W, or 1042-J, so that proper provision can be made in advance for transportation and packing of baggage up the mountain. Call up Mr. Scott for any information concerning the trip.

MAKING PLANS FOR BIG DRIVE OF RED CROSS

Fred Rafferty Today Interviewing Branches Upon the Campaign

Plans for the Red Cross drive for next week are being developed rapidly by Fred Rafferty, chairman of the finance committee. The drive will not actually commence in Santa Ana until Monday evening. Tuesday morning the canvass of the city will be started, and the work will be rushed through with speed. Rafferty hopes to have the field covered within three days.

Today he is making a trip among the branches, which have been organizing for their canvassing.

Garden Grove is going to have a mass meeting Monday evening, with a Red Cross speaker who was on the Red Cross Commission to Russia.

Joseph Vavra, chairman of the Huntington Beach drive committee, held an organization meeting last night.

Arrangements are being made in Los Angeles today for the visit of at least one speaker to Santa Ana during the early part of the drive or the last of this week. The Pacific Division in San Francisco has established a bureau in Los Angeles for the campaign. This bureau has charge of speakers and publicity work for the drive in Southern California.

RAFFERTY MADE FEDERAL FARM LABOR AGENT FOR COUNTY

U. S. Department to Use Best Effort to Meet Demand For Workers

Fred Rafferty has been appointed special Federal labor agent for Orange county. He is to maintain a free employment bureau for the use of farmers of this county, and should there be a shortage of labor he will be sent men by the Pacific Division of the United States Department of Labor, which has established a free employment service.

Frederick W. Eley of San Francisco, a field agent for the department, arrived here this morning for the purpose of swearing Rafferty in as special agent for Orange county. Rafferty was away this morning, and the formal oath of office will be given some time this afternoon.

"The local office will be kept open from May 15 to November 1," said Eley. "The Department of Labor has supplied blanks upon which farmers and other employers can list their wants. It will be Mr. Rafferty's duty to fill those wants from the local field if possible. If he finds that there is a greater demand than the local supply will meet, he will immediately wire our office in San Francisco, and the required labor will be supplied immediately."

"The government has made arrangements for the free transportation of labor through the Department of Labor. Hitherto the cost of railroad fare has been a great drawback to the successful distribution of labor from place to place. Under the arrangement now made the cost of transportation will be taken care of by the government, so that groups of laborers can be sent from one place to another quickly and without expense to the laborers for transportation."

"Of course, we will try to make use of the surplus labor that there is in the big cities. These laborers will be given an opportunity to go to work upon the farms. If necessary, a greater number of Mexicans will be brought into the state than were brought in last year. I have not personally studied the situation in the southern end of the state. As Mr. Rafferty gets a survey of the situation steps may be taken in advance to meet a condition that he may find is bound to occur unless outside relief is found."

HABENER AND RUIZ ARE ACCEPTED FOR MILITARY SERVICE

Delayed Reports Received Show Entire Contingent Passes Tests

Today the local exemption board received cards from Camp Lewis showing that William Habener of Orange and Emilio Ruiz of San Juan Capistrano had both been accepted at Camp Lewis for military service.

Yesterday cards had been received showing all other members of the contingent of thirty-two men who were sent to army camps on April 26 had been accepted. The fact that cards were not received at the same time was taken as an indication that they may have been rejected. Receipt of cards for the two men today, however, shows that they are in the service.

Physical Tests

Julian G. Ramos of San Juan Capistrano was examined by local board physicians yesterday, and was found to be disqualified for military service. He was placed in Class 5.

A report received by the local board from the Medical Advisory Board in Los Angeles shows that John R. Deakins, formerly of El Toro, now of Anaheim, had been examined by that board. He was given temporary stay, and was instructed to return in sixty days for another examination.

Goes as Trainman

G. A. Bissel of Santa Ana, registered in Los Angeles, is to be given an examination by the local board this afternoon. He has volunteered for induction into service as a trainman. At present he is employed by the Pacific Electric.

OF FORTY-EIGHT MEN ONLY TWO ARE REJECTED
FULLERTON, May 14.—The local exemption board has received word to the effect that all of the ten men sent to Ft. McDowell, San Francisco, in May, have been accepted and that all but two of the thirty-eight sent to Camp Lewis on the 26th of April have passed the test.

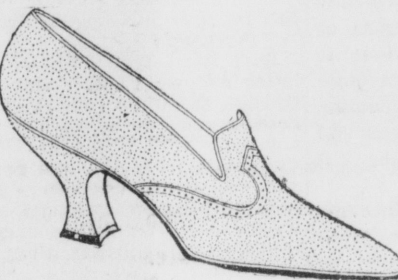

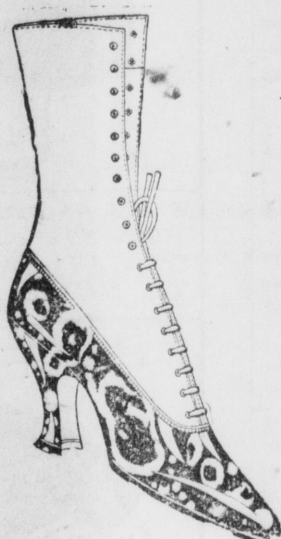

Matteo Aragno, who did not file a questionnaire until a few days ago, was retrained for Camp Lewis by the local exemption board last Saturday evening, being placed in charge of Corporal Maurice E. Ford, who was returning to Camp Lewis from his furlough of a few days.

Sunday afternoon Clifford Jones, son of J. E. Jones of South Spadra road, left for Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark., where he goes to join the officers training school. It will not be known what branch of the service Jones will enter until he arrives at his destination, when he will be given an opportunity to decide.

INVESTING LIBERTY INTEREST

Interest upon Second Liberty Loan bonds becomes due tomorrow, and coupons may be cashed at any bank or post office.

That interest money ought not go into any person's pocket. It ought to be turned at once to some war purpose. The Thrift Stamp committees have suggested and urged that it be invested at once in Thrift Stamps, and the Red Cross officials have urged and suggested that the money be given to the Red Cross.

Whether it be for Thrift Stamps, the Red Cross, the W. C. T. U. war fund, the Y. M. C. A. war fund or any of the other war funds let it find its way into war work. Let us keep our patriotic dollars working, and certainly interest money from a Liberty bond will never be hoarded by any loyal citizen.

The interest due tomorrow on the Second Liberty Loan bonds sold in Santa Ana will not be less than $15,500.

The amount of money to be asked of citizens of Santa Ana as their share of the $100,000,000 to be raised in the United States next week for the American Red Cross is approximately $15,500.

MORE AND BETTER GEOGRAPHY

An Iowa paper suggests editorially that physical and commercial geography ought to be more generally taught in our public schools. Most pupils have only a smattering of geography in the grammar grades, which they proceed to forget before they have gone very far through high school.

Our general ignorance of geography is indicated, says the Iowa editorial writer, by the fact that men and women cannot from memory co-ordinate locations in connection with the European war. They have acquired from newspaper maps a general idea of the region around the western front, but they are easily lost when they try to follow movements in some of the more remote scenes of the world war. He suggests, too, that people who knew their geography better wouldn't be so easily duped by exploiters of wild railroad and realty booms here at home.

It's encouraging to note that geography methods have changed much of late. Nowadays pupils learn why a great waterway is commercially important, why big industrial and railroad centers are located near coal and iron mining regions. Climate and soil and agricultural belts are understood in their relation to each other. A pupil learns to trace a bushel of wheat from the farm country where it is raised to its final destination. He follows the ore or the coal from the mines to the factory and then on around the world wherever the completed product goes. And the towns and rivers fall into the general scheme of things quite naturally and inevitably. He learns their location and importance without memorizing long lists of meaningless names.

There's no harm in teaching geography beyond the grammar grades. But what is taught there is going to be remembered better and be of more value if it is taught right.

KILLING OFF THE AGED

A German health official is quoted as expressing deep satisfaction over the old-age mortality figures. It happens that in the past year the deaths of men and women over 55 have amounted to about three-quarters of a million more than usual. And this incredible doctor declares that Germany is "glad of it," because "it shows that the German power is increasing."

To understand that remark it is necessary to know that in distributing food and other necessities the German government deliberately discriminates against men and women past the age of military usefulness. The soldiers are well fed. The war workers come next. Then the children's wants are supplied. The aged and the helpless have to take what is left. But even that little is grudged them. And so the conscienceless German state and its loyal servant rejoice when they die off, leaving fewer mouths to feed.

Ancient Sparta used to kill all the babies that were not physically perfect and obviously destined to make good fighting material. She would put them out in the woods to starve or be devoured by animals. The modern Sparta, as Germany likes to consider herself, doesn't do that exactly; but she kills off the aged by a process just about as humane.

THE PEACE OFFENSIVE

The German peace offensive seems to have been nipped in the bud by the refusal of either Allies or neutrals to take it seriously. And that is an excellent thing for the allied cause. For there can be little doubt in the mind of any intelligent observer that the whole thing was, and is, an insolent bluff.

There is no evidence that Germany at this time wants to make peace even on the familiar Prussian principle, "Let me keep part of what I've stolen, forget my crimes, and I'll stop fighting." There is no reason to believe that the German government today is in any mood to suggest seriously the terms supposed to have been offered through a Dutch intermediary at London. The robber band is not likely at this time to give up Belgium and northern France or to consider the surrender of any part of Alsace-Lorraine or to submit the Balkan problem to the decision of an honest international council.

The German militarists are not through with their great military offensive on the western front. And the peace drive was evidently intended as a part of the military drive.

Leading war experts agree that this peace move was meant to weaken the Allies by putting them off their guard, slowing up their preparations for continued resistance and weakening the morale of the civilian populations. Such a result would certainly be attained if the allied nations, and the neutrals along with them, could be induced to discuss peace as an imminent possibility. Germany would go right ahead with the reorganization of her shattered forces and the accumulation of new guns and ammunition, and when the Allies were busy discussing terms of settlement would strike harder than ever.

But it doesn't work. The free nations know Prussia now. As Frank H. Simonds writes in the New York Tribune:

"Bitter experience has taught the peoples at war with Germany that when Berlin talks peace it means war, that a German campaign for peace bears no relation whatever to honest and sincere attempts to make peace, but is purely and simply designed to contribute to the military success of the Kaiser upon the battlefield."

"Hot air is expected to wring the death knell of the towel," remarks the Cleveland Plain Dealer, anent the innovation of using blowers to dry one's face and hands. But just how will the hot air wring the knell? By choking it to death with its bare hands?

The War and the Creeds

(From the Minneapolis Journal)

In how many fundamental ways the world will be remodeled by the war, no wise man will now undertake to say. But that men in Christian lands will be thinking in new terms after the war, is to be expected.

The millions of soldiers who have faced death, who have eaten, drunk, slept and chummed with death for years in trench and field, who have been in the business of killing, and above all of offering their lives freely for others—these men, or such of them as think clearly, will not thereafter be content with the trifles that before amused them, nor with the conventionalities that once looked important. These men on coming home may be expected to shift any shiftable thing in the social structure.

And no great institution will be more severely put to the test by them than the Christian church. Any part of that structure that has been built of conventionalities or sentimentalities, or of anything not elemental to life, will be severely shaken, if not thrown down. In the fire of a world war like this, only the gold in a life philosophy will remain unconsumed.

In the recent publication, "The Church in the Furnace," a collection of essays by Church of England ministers in war service, Rev. F. R. Barry, of England, says:

We cannot placidly go back to conventional Christianity, the religion of respectability and anxious avoidance of small faults. No padre certainly, and probably no man can find rest for his soul in the religion of parochial activities. We must have a faith that is elemental, simple, majestic and compelling. I am quite prepared to see such large developments in the coming form of Christianity that the religion of our sons and grandsons would seem to be almost another faith, if it were witnessed by our grandfathers.

It is already clear that the thinking soldier in camp and field is not religiously interested except in those few fundamentals that relate to himself, his fellow and his God. To these things he will listen with the greatest interest. The rest he throws away, just as he throws away the pleasant impedimenta of home when he packs his kit for light marching.

Men of vision are preparing for this readjustment of faith and doctrine after the war. Whether this change will bring about a winnowing of creeds, or a union of sects, or both, it will have to have within it the vital fire of love toward God and good will toward men, if it is to draw and keep the men who have stood in battle, stripped of self, and eye to eye with real life and death.

Bud Flivver's Observations

 Guy Morton stopped me—On the street—And he asked me—Had I read—"The Yellow Dog"—And if I hadn't—I should—

 And I told him—That I hadn't—But I got a magazine—And hurried home—And read the story—

 And it reminded me—Of a talk I had—With Heber Dunneldoff—The other day—At the Dandelion club—

 And Heber told me—He was a good American—But he didn't think much—Of the espionage law—

 And he said—This is a free country—And every man—Should have a right—To say what he thinks—

 And I asked him—Suppose he had an acquaintance—And he would take him—Into his home—And give him shelter—

 And suppose that acquaintance—Had enjoyed the liberty—Of his home—And he had fed him—And everything—

 And that acquaintance—Would talk behind his back—And tip off—His business affairs—To his envious competitor—

 And he said—He would think—That fellow was—A dirty dog—And ought to be kicked—Into the street—

 And I told him—That he ought to be kicked—Over to Berlin—To fight with the snakes—That have his sympathy—

 And it came to me—That it is our duty—To throttle the words—That come from the mouths—Of our enemies—

 For they are enemies—Whether they know it or not—And every word—They utter—Is a stab—At our soldiers—

 And after this—I am not going to—Do any arguing—With such people—And I am going to—Tell them to keep quiet—

 And if they—Won't keep still—I'm going to tell them—The story of—"The Yellow Dog"—

 And then if they—Don't shut up—Someone is going to—Get considerably—Mussed up—

 And if every one—Would take that course—With the back-biting cuss—There would be less knocking—About the war—By Bud.

The subtleties of language are cleverly illustrated by the following pun:

"Did you see my sunburst at the banquet the other night?" asked a woman.

"No, I didn't," was the answer, "but I thought he would, if he ate another bite."

DUBLIN SKYSCRAPERS

An American visiting Dublin told some startling stories of the height of New York skyscrapers. "You haven't seen our newest hotel, have you?" asked the Irishman. "No," replied the Yankee. "Well," said the Irishman, "it's so tall that we have to put the two top stories on hinges." "What for?" asked the American. "So that we can let 'em down while the moon goes by!" said the Dubliner.—Ex.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

Letter From Bill Jones to Paw

(Written by H. J. Nichols, a Government Inspector at Salinas, Cal., and a son-in-law of A. F. McAfee of the Mission Woolen Mills, this city.)

Bill Jones, Somewhere in France with Pershing.

Dear Son:—Well Bill, we got your letter and we read it through and through, and while your Maw and me's both scared, we're mighty proud of you. We read about the fightin' in the papers every day, and I'm a tellin' you, son, we don't feel very gay. But you can bet your Paw and Maw, will do the best they know, and when it comes to buyin' bonds, they won't be very slow.

We've made more money durin' war, than we ever made before, but we're buyin' Bonds and Thrift Stamps with all we make, and more.

Now I've told you bout your Maw and Me, I'll tell you bout old Reese. You know the old man, and his place, just down the road a piece. Well, some of the boys from up in town, come out the other day, and tried to sell old Reese some Bonds, but he said "He couldn't pay for Liberty Bonds when times was hard, as hard as they are now. Well say, that started somethin', and they like to had a row. Per the boys from town knew better, they know he's rich as sin and they called old Reese pro-German, said he didn't want to win. The whole durned country's sore at Reese, and I don't know what they'll do, but if anything should happen, I'll be sure and write to you. Now you can bet your last month's pay, I'm watchin' day and night and if they do start somethin', I'll be right up in the fight. I'm gettin' old and mighty gray, but still can do my share, to keep things as they should be here, while you're fightin' "over there."

Your Maw will write you soon again and tell you all the news, but I had this slacker on my chest, 'twas givin' me the blues. Thank God, there ain't so many men that's like this slacker, son. So tell the boys your country is BEHIND YOU! TILL YOU'VE WON.

Now I'll tell you once again, my son, that both your Maw and Me, are proud our boy is fightin', fightin' for Democracy.

Your Lovin' PAW.

P. S.—One third of all the Bonds we've bought, your Maw says go to you. So, hurry up and whip the Hun, we'll watch and wait for you.

Boom Day Hotel Building to Be Supplanted By Business Rooms

Within the next week or ten days razing of the Hotel Shay building at Fullerton will be under way and when the work is completed new buildings will be erected which will call for an expenditure of about $30,000 by George Amerige, owner of the property. The furniture and fixtures of the hotel are being offered for sale now in parcels to suit the individual purchaser.

Amerige has plans for eight store rooms facing on Commonwealth avenue, and will develop the block as a business center. Immediately at the rear of the business buildings he will erect a number of two-story flats.

There are sixteen lots in the property heretofore devoted to the hotel, and Amerige will improve the most of them and will sell those which he does not improve with new buildings.

The hotel is one of the landmarks of the progressive city of Fullerton and was built by Amerige brothers in 1887, just before the boom of that period collapsed.

It is a fine piece of property. The fact that Amerige contemplates an investment of about $30,000 is evidence that he has faith in the future of his home city.

W. S. S. BENEFIT BOXING SHOW AT OAKLAND TONIGHT

OAKLAND, May 14.—Oakland fight fans will turn out en masse tonight for the Oakland benefit boxing show, the proceeds of which will go to the camp service war fund. The fans will get their money's worth for Benny Leonard is among the performers, of the evening, being scheduled to meet Joe Miller. Willie Ritchie will argue fiscally with Frank Barrieau and Bob McAllister and Knockout Brown will have a battle. Others on the card are Bill Shaffer and Henry Hendricks, Jimmy Dundee and Harry Pelsinger, Jimmy Volagast and Kewpie Callender, Spider Roach and Sailor Wilson, John Nunez and Walter McDevitt—practically all of whom have appeared before now as main events.

Then, to make it an all-star affair, Jim Jefferies will referee.

Sugar For Cold Dishes Allowed In Order to Keep Up Dairy Products Supply

Sugar is one of the scarce articles of foodstuffs whose control has been taken over by the federal food administration, and now the administrators in this part of the state are engaged in putting the various uses of sugar on the "essential" or "non-essential" lists, for upon this classification will future supplies of sugar depend. "Essential" uses will be allowed the required amount of sugar, while the "non-essential" uses will be allowed what is left, probably a small per cent of what has been used in former years.

Ice cream was put on the "essential" list yesterday at a meeting of food administrators held in Los Angeles which was attended by C. S. Crookshank, food administrator for Orange county. The reason for classing ice cream as an essential, it is stated, is that this dish is a food rather than a beverage or confection, and ice cream allows a marketing of surplus dairy milk during the summer months and thus prevents any diminution of herds because of small demand.

Explaining the latter and more important phase of the decision, Sayre MacNeil, chairman of food distribution for the state, said this:

"The action is one to protect the average dairyman against himself and to conserve the milky supply. By allowing ice cream makers to use sugar, we take care of the summer milk surplus. Otherwise, many shortsighted dairymen might butcher their animals without seeing the great demand which comes with winter."

Definite announcement of the compiled regulations on sugar will be given out soon, it was promised today by Food Administrator Crookshank. The conference yesterday discussed chiefly the best way to approach further sugar regulation.

Use of sugar by manufacturers of non-essential products—soda pop, candies, etc.—is to be restricted even more than at present. Those who entered the business after April 1 are to be allowed no sugar whatever.

In putting ice cream and products of it in the essentials, it was decided that sherbets and ices should go in the non-essentials.

PLOW UP CEMETERY TO RAISE WAR GARDENS

M'KEESPORT, Pa., May 14.—They are going to raise Liberty lettuce and win-the-war watermelons in the most exclusive cemetery in McKeesport this summer.

So intensive has become the war garden campaign here that enough space for all the gardens applied for could not be found in all the vacant lots and golf courses about town, so the graveyard was drafted into the service of democracy. The "democracy of the grave" no longer will be a rhetorical figure. It will be materialized in terms of cabbage and corn.

Already the vacant lots in the cemetery have been plowed. They are being prepared for planting, and boys and adults alike soon will be turling the "City of the Dead" into a mighty lively location.

The city plowed and harrowed the cemetery and river bank land, and is furnishing fertilizer to all who ask it. More than 190 acres have been parcelled out to persons who promise to use it to the utmost for production of vegetables.

PARADE TO OPEN HOME GUARD OF 3 TOWNS WILL MEET MONDAY, FULLERTON

Active Work Begins Monday; City to Raise $16,000; District Quota $22,000

The first steps to give the new Red Cross drive a good "send-off" will be an interesting parade at 2:45 next Saturday, May 18, the active campaign to begin on the following Monday. The allotment for the city of Santa Ana has been placed at $16,000 and Santa Ana and its auxiliaries, including Huntington Beach, Garden Grove, Westminster, Wintersburg, Irvine, El Toro, San Juan Capistrano and Laguna Beach, will raise $22,000.

The parade will be limited to Red Cross features, all miscellaneous exhibits being obliterated. The procession will be led by the grand marshal of the day, W. J. Lindsay, and the Santa Ana Elks' band.

The Red Cross women in uniform will follow marching, the older members and those not able to walk riding in automobiles with the tops down. No machines with the tops up will be permitted to enter. The cars are to be appropriately decorated with Red Cross colors and designs.

The adults will be followed by the Junior Red Cross with a living Red Cross flag, arranged by Miss Hazel Bemis, chairman of the Junior Red Cross department.

Other pretty features are being arranged by members of the outside auxiliaries and horsemen and horsewomen are invited to participate, having their steeds properly decorated.

The parade will form at the Armory Red Cross headquarters at 2:30 p. m., march on Fourth to French and counter-march back to the Armory.

Matinees are being arranged at the West End theater at 1 o'clock, preceding the parade and the other at 3 p. m. or immediately following the procession. The matinees will be for the benefit of the Intermediate P-T, Junior Red Cross work. The children are out selling the tickets and the association will receive half the proceeds.

NO COMMANDEERING POWER SOUGHT BY THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, May 14.—On the advice of President Wilson, the House public lands committee today struck from the oil leasing bill the section giving the executive power to commandeer all oil lands.

The section was inserted in the bill on the recommendation of Oil Director Requa of the fuel administration, but was never submitted to the president until a conference last night with Chairman Scott Ferris.

Monday evening is to be a big time at Fullerton, with a battalion drill and grand review of the three home guard companies of Santa Ana, Orange and Fullerton. More than 150 men are expected to take part, fifty from Santa Ana, fifty from Orange, and about sixty to sixty-five of the Fullerton company. Capt. E. W. Hauck of the Fullerton company and principal of the Fullerton high school, will act as major during the evening.

The first event of the evening will be the battalion drill, to be staged on the Fullerton high school athletic field at 7 o'clock Monday evening. Following this, there will be a grand review on West Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, the guards to be reviewed by the members of the County Council of Defense. An effort will also be made to have the city trustees of the three towns in the reviewing stand. Following the review, it is planned for the guard to march back to the high school grounds, where they will be dismissed.

While no further details have been announced here, it is known that the Fullerton company is planning some sort of entertainment for the visiting guardsmen. An effort will also be made, it is understood, to get some of the Camp Kearny officers to be present for the drill and review, but as yet nothing definite along this line is known.

Capt. A. E. Koepsel will command the Santa Ana company Monday evening and Capt. A. S. Ralph will be in charge of the Orange company.

Both the drill and the review will be open to the public, and a large attendance of spectators is expected to be on hand to watch the maneuvers.

W. S. S. — NO. CAL. WAR COUNCIL SACRAMENTO, May 14.—Northern California counties, through their councils of defense, were represented here today at the opening session of the war council held under the auspices of the State Council of Defense and called by Governor Stephens.

George B. Chandler, representing the National Defense Council; Dr. Thomas F. Moran, Lieutenant Perigord of the French army, Dr. J. A. B. Scherer and others will be among the speakers at the war council, which will be in session two days.

W. S. S. — COMMANDEER SUPPLIES OF PLATINUM

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Platinum has been commandeered for war purposes, the war industries board announced today. Supplies in the hands of jewelers, wholesalers, and manufacturers and platinum received by them up to June 30 must be sold to the government at $105 a troy ounce. Iridium is also requisitioned at $175 an ounce, and palladium at $135 an ounce.

HOLD PRELIMINARY OF MAN WHO SHOT ENGINE YOUNG

Benjamin W. Elliott In Justice Court Here This Afternoon

This afternoon the preliminary examination of Benjamin W. Elliott, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill Constable Harry F. Ashley of La Habra, is being held in justice's court.

Elliott has been in jail ever since he was brought from the county hospital, where he had quickly recovered from two bullet wounds inflicted by Ashley. Ashley went to arrest Elliott after Elliott had fired the shot that killed Eugene Young of La Habra. Young broke down Elliott's door with the avowed intention of making Elliott kiss the American flag.

Instead of surrendering to Ashley, Elliott raised his revolver. That is the testimony of Ashley. Before Elliott fired a shot, Ashley fired twice. One bullet hit Elliott in the cheek and another hit his chest, but did not go through the rib.

Clyde Bishop is attorney for Elliott. Ashley was the first witness called and he detailed his experiences of the attempt to arrest Elliott. He declared that Elliott pointed his gun at him and that he did not shoot until Elliott made the first move. Ashley had been summoned after Elliott had shot Young. Two shots were fired by each.

Attorney Clyde Bishop is representing the defendant, and in cross questioning Ashley, gave the impression that he would attempt to prove that Elliott fired but one shot, and that after Ashley had fired twice. Marks of the first shot Elliott is alleged to have fired could not be found about the room—at least Ashley could not locate them.

A number of witnesses were to be examined and it was expected that the preliminary examination would have to be continued tomorrow or to another date.

NOT SEPARATED FOR YEAR, DIVORCE FAILS

It takes a year's separation between man and wife to constitute legal desertion, a ground for divorce. That point was hammered home this morning when the trial of the action of Mrs. Sarah Baisey of Anaheim against Carl Baisey was on before Judge Thomas. The evidence very quickly proved that the defendant and his wife had not been separated a year at the time the divorce complaint was filed. Judge Thomas dismissed the action.

POLICE SEND OUT DESCRIPTION OF CHARLES A. ROE

City Marshal Sam Jernigan is sending out descriptions of Charles A. Roe, who disappeared from this city March 28 last, leaving his wife and small children here. They reside at 818 South Main street.

Roe is about 45 years of age and is well known over the state, where he has worked in various capacities. He has worked on the Los Angeles Examiner and the Fullerton Tribune and for a brief time before his disappearance he was on the Register staff. He also worked for the Crown Stage Company. In other fields he was accountant for the Los Angeles Investment Company and in the land business traveled all over the state.

CATALOGUE LEAVES USED TO IDENTIFY STOLEN HEN FRUIT

Shiftiness of Frank Martinez Stands Out Against Him at Hearing

A useful purpose has been discovered for a mail order catalogue. It is good to fill in spaces in egg cases so that the eggs won't roll around. And it was because of this useful trait of the foreign house that Frank Martinez is in jail on a charge of burglary.

Yesterday Martinez was given a preliminary examination before Justice Cox, and was ordered held to answer with his bond fixed at $1000.

Not long ago someone broke into a barn at the ranch home of T. R. Morris at Cypress, and carted away nine cases of eggs. It just so happened that same night A. L. Young was travelling along the road near the Morris place when he saw an Overland automobile with white wheels. When Morris sent out a description of the stolen egg cases, he said that Mrs. Morris had torn a lot of leaves out of a mail order house catalogue, and had used them to fill in some chinks in the cases, which were longer than they should have been.

Yesterday Detective Reyes of Los Angeles told Justice Cox that Martinez has been under suspicion a number of times. Once he was accused of selling a stolen automobile tire to E. Carza, owner of a small grocery store in Los Angeles. Reyes had a look at some eggs that Carza had bought, and there he found leaves of a catalogue. He asked Carza where he got the eggs, and Carza said he bought them from Martinez.

Carza's testimony was taken yesterday, as was Young's and Morris' and Mrs. Morris'. Young identified an automobile taken from Martinez in Los Angeles as the white-wheeled Overland he saw at Cypress the night the eggs were stolen.

Many women on West First about Birch and Ross were frightened in the early morning hours, about 2 o'clock today, when lights were flashed into their bedrooms by a man who was heard snaking about. A telephone call was sent to the police department and officers rode around the vicinity for three quarters of an hour and combed Birch Park but the culprit was not found.

WILL FOLLOW U. S. TO END OF WAR, SAYS BRAZIL PRESIDENT

Wilson's Statement of War
Aims Worthy of America's Best Traditions

BY ROY W. HOWARD
(President of the United Press Association)

SAO PAULO, Brazil, May 14.—"Brazil will follow the course of the United States to the end of the war. The change of administration will not alter our policy of backing up the leadership of the United States in the most friendly and genuine way."

The speaker was President-Elect Rodrigues Alves, who will return to the presidential chair of Brazil for the second time on November 15. In a most convincing manner and without equivocation, the next chief executive in an interview Thursday, the first he has given since his election, outlined his war policy about which speculation has been rife.

Before making his statement, the president-elect read very carefully the original copy of President Wilson's letter of January 16 to the United Press in which he outlined the aims of the United States. Speaking slowly and seriously, he said:

"The sentiment expressed in this letter is worthy of the best traditions of the United States. It carries the same conviction which has made the recognized spokesman of the allies a man whose genius was not suspected before the war crisis. The attention drawn by his commanding style and unquestionable sincerity, based on extreme prudence and patience before action, has enabled him to carry South American thinkers along with him in sentiment, if not always in action. The self-abnegation of the United States in offering themselves as sacrifices in the war and in abandoning the pursuits of peace without selfish individual ambitions and without a single objective which is not guaranteed to all peoples, has given President Wilson unprecedented moral authority and has raised the United States in universal estimation to a position from which it can accomplish the absolute solidarity of the democracies of the western hemisphere without incurring the slightest envy or suspicion.

"The unanimity of support the United States is giving to President Wilson coupled with his own faithfulness to democratic fundamentals has unprecedentedly strengthened the possibilities of his benign activities. It has eliminated in Brazil, as in the rest of the world, the latent prejudice that the United States is open to suspicion of selfishness.

"The course of the United States during the war crisis stirs my personal pride that, during my previous administration from 1903 to 1906, with Senor Rio Branco as foreign secretary, we gave much attention to promoting the closest relationship with the United States. By raising our Washington legation to the rank of an embassy and promoting the second Pan-American congress we so manifested our regard that Brazil was honored with a visit from that other great statesman, Elihu Root, who, like President Wilson, greatly advanced South American understanding and appreciation of the high purpose of the United States.

"For even stronger reasons, the same policy will be followed during my second administration. Our main foreign policy will be to eliminate prejudices and suspicions between all

SECRETARY BAKER IN HIS "TIN HAT"

This picture of Secretary of War Baker was snapped in the trenches on the western front. It shows Baker in the uniform and "tin hat" he wore during his inspection of the American front.

American countries, just as, on the occasion of Mr. Root's memorable visit to Brazil, I personally and heartily endorsed the extension of the trip to the other great southern republics.

"I repeat that this will continue to be the basis of Brazil's international policy. Meanwhile we recognize that, by the enormity of her sacrifices and her unselfish contribution to democracy in the present trouble the United States, in the opinion of Brazilians, has earned the right to the liberty of voicing and interpreting sentiments of the western republics in any movement to promote unity of purpose and mutual confidence which are most essential to the common good of all."

"Then you prefer Pan-Americanism to the policy of Latin-Americanism?" the president-elect was asked.

"Unquestionably Brazil stands for Pan-Americanism," he replied, "having been for years in closest sympathy with the United States and seemingly having understood the Washington policy better than some others have. Brazil has everything she desires territorially and she covets nothing of her neighbors. Naturally she recognizes that the United States is equally endowed and equally uncovetous. Brazil has never taken seriously the myth that the United States is ambitious for territorial acquisition.

"Speaking for Brazil only, Pan-Americanism is the most sensible policy. The resourcefulness and financial strength of the United States offer much that we need after the war. On the other hand, the development of Brazil's natural wealth offers much to the United States. Any state policy which retards the meeting of these interests is too short-sighted long to survive.

CITY TRUSTEES GARBAGE CANS OR ARREST, EDICT OF COUNCIL

Police Directed to Arrest All Persons Not Complying
With Ordinance

The city council didn't exactly go on a rampage last night, but it took action which may result in residents of the city being haled into court forthwith if instructions it gave the city police department are carried out literally. The city marshal and his force of peace guardians were directed to arrest every resident of the city who does not comply with the ordinance governing the kind of receptacle to be used as garbage containers. The officers also are to arrest every person coming into the city and hauling out garbage without a license to do so or a special permit—and securing of the latter will be next to impossible. Garbage Contractor Tate also will have to provide better equipment for collection of refuse or the city will call on his bondsmen to make good.

City Councilman McPhee, reporting for himself and Greenleaf, as the committee appointed to look into the garbage collection situation in the city, said that the system of collection was unsanitary, inefficient, and recommended that the contractor be held strictly to his agreement and that the people of the city be forced to co-operate with him to the extent of providing regulation garbage cans. Official notice will be given to the public that such cans must be provided and those who do not comply with it will be arrested and taken into court.

"I have always maintained that the contractor is not getting sufficient pay for his work," declared McPhee. "He is now getting $150 per month, or $100 less than was formerly paid. When he took up the contract he naturally expected to be reimbursed by the value of the slops. Today the collections are about one-third what they used to be, and the people are careless in putting it out. Some of them put their garbage out once in two or three weeks and the stuff is worthless as hog feed."

"We are now approaching the summer months, and if the present method of putting slops out in all kinds of receptacles and throwing refuse in the alleys is continued, the health of the city will be seriously menaced."

The question of unlicensed garbage haulers coming into the city and picking up the best slops to be had and leaving the refuse for the contractor was also brought up by McPhee.

The whole matter was disposed of by McPhee's motion that "the city marshal go to bat and arrest every garbage hauler who is operating without a license; that residents who fail to provide themselves with the regulation garbage cans be arrested, and that the contractor be notified that he must live up to the provisions of his contract and supply better equipment for the removal of garbage."

L. A. Schlesinger told of his experience with garbage. He said that he had a first-class garbage can at his place and that he tried in every way to live up to the ordinance, but that dogs in his neighborhood frequently knocked the can over and spilled the contents in the alley. He had tried to overcome the trouble by placing the can in a tree, but without results. He wanted to know what was to be done in a case of this kind. The board had no solution to offer.

Sunday Vaudeville
The city council has nothing officially before it in the matter of closing Clune's theater to vaudeville on Sundays and therefore is not in position to act. This is the substance of the report made by George McPhee on the request of the W. C. T. U. presented last Monday night to deny the Clune theater a license for the operation of the playhouse as a vaudeville house.

"There is no request, before this board for a license, which leaves the committee in a very peculiar position," said McPhee. "I always welcome the opportunity to go to bat on anything that concerns the welfare of the public. The committee believes that in order to bring this matter to a head the Ministerial Union, the W. C. T. U. or some other organization should draw up the character of ordinance they want or bring something to us in tangible form. We don't know what they want. If they will bring something before us, giving some kind of an outline of what they want, we will see if we can grant their request."

Bridge Plans
Plans for the bridges at Main street and Flower street were presented and their adoption was deferred to this afternoon in order that the consent of the P. E. to the elimination of wings at the Main street structure might be secured. As soon as the plans and specifications are adopted the council will be in position to advertise for bids for building the bridges. The bonds are now in the hands of the printers and are expected to be ready by Friday or Saturday for signing by the proper officials.

For Weighing Wool
Application of P. A. Robinson for permission to put in wagon scales on Stafford street, just east of the S. P. Tracks, was referred to McPhee and Greenleaf. Robinson recently has built a warehouse on Stafford street which is to be used as a storage house for the woolen mills and the scales will be used in weighing wool and material stored.

Electric Sign
Application of J. G. Robertson for permission to erect an electric sign at Dick's garage at 414 West Fifth street was referred to the city electrician with power to act.

To Extend Myrtle
Petition of T. F. McDonnell and other residents of West Myrtle street for the opening of that street from Flower to Shelton was granted. Walks and curbs are not to be ordered in under a year. The petition was granted on motion of McPhee, who stated that efforts to get this street opened had been in progress for several years. Half the right of way was deeded some years ago by the late J. A. Buckingham when he subdivided his ranch on Flower, but the opening had been blocked by the refusal of the late S. Hill to give the other half of the street when he subdivided a tract.

Will Attend Mass Meeting
On motion of Judge Mayatt the city council will attend as a committee of the whole the mass meeting to be held at the city hall on the evening of May 21 to consider plans for a clean up day at the old cemetery.

This Is Clean-up Week
On motion of Mayatt the week of May 15-20 was declared clean-up week for Santa Ana. People of the city are requested to clean up their yards and curbs and pile the trash on the curbs—not in the alleys—and city teams will start picking up the rubbish on Tuesday next.

Will Improve Santa Clara
McPhee reported that Santa Clara avenue between Broadway and Flower streets was in bad condition and should be put in shape before the new bridge is erected. On his motion the street superintendent was directed to scarify and roll the street at his convenience. Street Supt. O'Brien said that such work would put the street in good condition.

Will Condemn Strip
Reporting on the widening of Walnut street from the high school grounds to Flower street, McPhee said that he had been unable to get a satisfactory adjustment for land in front of John Thompson's property on the south side of Walnut and at the corner of Flower. The city attorney was directed to institute suit to condemn the property needed.

Leave of Absence
C. H. Dean was given a 30 day leave of absence. He and Mrs. Dean will leave Saturday or Monday for Camp Cody, New Mexico, to visit their son, who is in training there.

Channel Straightening Too Expensive
McPhee, reporting for himself and Greenleaf, the committee appointed to investigate the feasibility of straightening the Santiago creek at the Main street crossing, said that City Engineer Bonebrake, S. H. Finley and property owners along the creek had consulted on the matter, and that it had been found that the cost would be too great for the city to undertake the proposed improvement. He did not give the figures.

MRS. WEIRICK SPEAKS ON 'PRISON REFORM' TOMORROW AT 3:30

Noted Social Service Worker
From Montana to Address
Elks Hall Meeting

Mrs. E. B. Weirick, chairman of the social service work of the Los Angeles district of women's clubs, is to be the speaker here at a mass meeting held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. at Elks' hall. Mrs. Weirick is known as the biggest little woman in Montana, being the wife of a retired banker of Butte, with whom she has come to Los Angeles to make her home.

Mrs. Weirick took a course in social service work in the University of California and is employing her knowledge in working out practical schemes of philanthropic work. Under her observance are all of the philanthropic institutions of Los Angeles county, which are being maintained by club women and individuals. The speaker has been busy speaking on the Liberty loan, Red Cross and other war activities of the day. When Mrs. Weirick speaks here, her subject will be "Prison Reform." She was the only woman ever appointed in Montana to serve on the State Board of Charities and Reform, of which she was secretary. She is still a member of the advisory board of the Children's Home Society and one of the directors of the Montana Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. She is a public speaker of ability and as a dramatic reader has a reputation more than state-wide. Mrs. Weirick has an only son, who is Lieutenant Arthur M. Weirick of the aviation corps in France.

Tomorrow morning Mrs. Weirick will address a Junior College assembly and the pupils of the high school will be dismissed in time in the afternoon to attend the meeting at Elks' hall.

Australian Premier and Party
Arrive In U. S. After Escaping
German Ship Attack

A PACIFIC PORT, May 14.—Premier Wm. M. Hughes of Australia arrived here late yesterday on an American liner. Accompanying him are Premier Wm. F. Massey of New Zealand, Joseph Ward and Robert Curran.

Passengers on the steamer from Australia declared that Premier Hughes' party first boarded a British transport, which was attacked and damaged by a German commerce raider. The transport, according to the passengers, returned to the Australian port and the Hughes party boarded the American liner which brought them here.

Premiers Hughes and Massey are en route to London.

Boiling Points vs Gravity Test

Boiling points are the real test of gasoline value. The old gravity test tells nothing about the carbureting and combustive qualities of gasoline.

Boiling points are vaporizing points. In straight-distilled, all-refinery Red Crown gasoline they form a continuous, uniform chain.

Combustion starts with the lowest boiling points and flashes on through the medium to the highest. The complete chain is necessary for instantaneous, full-powered combustion. Eliminate one link and the power chain is broken.

Red Crown, the Gasoline of Quality, has the full and complete chain of boiling points necessary for steady, dependable power: Low boiling points for easy starting, medium boiling points for quick and smooth acceleration, and high boiling points for power and mileage.

Look for the Red Crown sign before you fill.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET
Based on the May estimate of the department of agriculture, the winter wheat yield this year promises to reach the huge total of 527,359,000 bushels. Realization of a crop of winter wheat as large as the forecast would place this year's harvest of that grain in the position of the third largest ever gathered. The estimate is 12,500,000 bushels more than forecast in April from conditions then existing, and 154,400,000 bushels more than the crop harvested last summer. On condition from now until harvest time will depend whether the crop will be larger or smaller than the forecast.

Efforts have been made to stimulate the production of spring wheat, and preliminary reports indicate an increase in the acreage set out, though no official figures will be available until June. The seed is said to be germinating well generally. The lack of frost shows advances, although the general cereal situation is said to be easier. Corn meal has made material declines, due to a lower corn market. Having been placed on the cost plus reasonable profit basis along with feed, corn meal quotations will be irregular.

Tragelins are scarce, and therefore not in today's quotations, while loquats have strengthened to 70¢ per crate. Apples are growing scarcer, some varieties being out of the list entirely. Yellow Newton Pippins have strengthened to 1.75¢ per doz. Strawberries are up to 1.20¢ per doz. Green chills are down to 25¢ per doz. and outdoor cucumbers 1.50¢ per doz. Egg plant is down to 16¢ per pound, and parsnips down to 1.75¢ per sack. Lettuce is selling at 40¢ per dozen and 1.75¢ per crate. Green peas have strengthened 1/2-cent a pound to 60¢ per doz. Poultry prices are generally firm with the exception of broilers, 14¢ up, and fryers 24¢ up, both being strong at 32¢.

FULLERTON

REV. MARSH TO DO Y. M. C. A. WORK IN ARMY

Fullerton Congregation Releases Pastor of Christian Church For Period

FULLERTON, May 14.—Action was taken Sunday in the local Christian church significant in the history of that body and in the annals of Fullerton. The church rose to the height of splendid self denial in agreeing to allow their efficient and loved pastor, Rev. Clark Marsh, to leave them for a period that he may do religious work in the army, meantime to take care of the pastor's family, who will remain in the parsonage.

Ever since America's entrance into the war Rev. Marsh has been active in every community phase of war preparation. When the opportunity came for him to give a needed personal service he was willing to pay the price in way of sacrifice for himself and family. His offer to serve the government under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. was, however, conditioned on his release from the church which had a prior claim on him. He preferred to have the entire church decide the matter rather than any official body in the church.

At the close of the service Sunday morning, Mr. C. C. Chapman took charge of the meeting and placed the matter before the body. He pointed out the great need in our contentions and in France for men such as Rev. Marsh. That few men could qualify for the task was evidenced in the large number of applications which had been refused and in the type of men who had been thus far accepted.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, May 14.—The fifteenth annual convention, California Grand Chapter P. E. O. to be held in Orange next week, bids fair to go down on record as equal to any previous convention ever held by this organization and that means that it will be an event which not only the P. E. O.'s themselves will remember with satisfaction but that their friends and the general public will also be proud of any part taken in aiding to give a royal welcome to 135 delegates and many visitors who will be in Orange, many of them for the first time, next week Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. While the honor has fallen to Orange of holding the convention here, the local chapter wishes it to be understood that they are most efficiently and substantially assisted in the entertainment of their guests by the following chapters: "A. B." of Santa Ana, "V" of Whittier and "V" of Fullerton. Chapter "S" of Orange being the senior of this group of chapters, explains why the convention is held here and not in one of the other towns mentioned. The business sessions of the convention will be held in the auditorium of the Christian church and the Ladies' Aid Society of that church will serve lunch and dinner during convention days, except Wednesday evening when dinner will be served at Elks hall in Santa Ana and the B. I. L.'s will be in attendance also.

Following the first business session Tuesday afternoon there will be an auto ride under the direction of the B. I. L.'s and the delegates will be shown the beauties of our surrounding country as well as given a glimpse of our little city.

There may be some in Orange who will learn for the first time that the Orange P. E. O. Society is not just a local social organization but that it is a part of a nationwide sisterhood having chapters all over the United States from New York to California; that while it is a secret society in one sense, yet there is no secret about its objects and aims which are philanthropic and civic as well as educational.

The chapters of each state are lettered alphabetically in the order of their organization, so when about eleven years ago, seven ladies, four of whom had been P. E. O.'s in other states, applied for a chapter for Orange they being the nineteenth granted this privilege, they were given the letter "S".

The organization was effected at the home of Mrs. A. R. Smith, who, being the leading spirit in persuading the others that a P. E. O. chapter in Orange would be a decided benefit not only to themselves but to the community.

Besides Mrs. A. R. Smith who has been a P. E. O. since her school days the other six charter members were Mrs. John L. Briggs, Mrs. Cornelia Briggs, Mrs. F. H. Mellor, Mrs. W. C. Pixley, Mrs. R. C. Blythe and Miss Marion Payne. Starting with these seven Chapter "S" has grown until it now has a membership of 32 resident and 4 non-resident members.

While always modest about having its affairs discussed in public, yet it has proved itself to be a public as well as a personal benefit to all who have come in touch with it in these anxious days when most of the members are busy with war-relief work they have been able to "add a step to their short swords" and as members of the entertaining chapter for the coming convention have made the time to be sufficient for this obligation also.

In honor of the twelfth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Mae, Mrs. C. L. Benson entertained at her home on East Walnut. Pink roses and ferns were used in decorating the rooms. After the afternoon had been happily spent playing games, reciting and with music, apricot sherbet and assorted cakes were served. Enjoying the affair were the Misses Louane Leech, Iva Musbaugh, Lillian Kuechel, Pearl Kuechel, Agnes Durbin, Winifred Riddle, Arlene Lewis, Velma Benson, and Mae Benson.

Mrs. Maud Mann and Miss Lena Messersmith entertained at dinner in honor of Mrs. Eliza Buck's seventy-third birthday anniversary. Pink and white sweet peas were used in decorating the rooms and a huge birthday cake lighted with pink and white candles was a feature of the dinner. Places were marked for the guest of honor, Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Cyrena Bolyard, Mrs. Kressen, Mrs. Emily V. Reed, Miss Thelma Mann and the two hostesses.

Mrs. Mable Kressen and Mrs. Claude Young went to San Francisco Sunday morning to spend the week. They are delegates to the Rebekah's state assembly, which is being held there.

Leon Shadel, Roy Ford, Guy Ford and Carl Hutchinson have gone to Bear Lake to spend a few days fishing.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

LITTLE GIRL LOSES A FINGER AS GARAGE DOOR IS OPENED

Mary O'Brien Loses Member In Deplorable Accident; Huntington B. Briefs

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 14.—Little Mary O'Brien had the misfortune a few days ago to have one of her fingers cut off while opening the garage door for her father. The wind caught the door and slamming it against the fence, completely severed the finger from the hand.

Dennis Hearn and C. W. Warner left Monday for a two-days' fishing trip in the Cucamonga Canyon north of Ontario.

Following a precedent from last year, the grammar school will hold a May festival pageant in Circle Park, on the afternoon of May 24. The pupils look forward to this occasion as one of the most interesting events of the whole school year, and there is no doubt but that it will far exceed that of last year.

Judge Louis J. Copeland took a number of persons to the Westminster District Sunday School convention held at Westminster last Saturday, including Rev. R. I. McKee and wife, Mrs. Bruce, mother of Mrs. McKee, and C. W. Warner.

Judge Copeland delivered a very interesting talk on "Educating the School in Trained Leadership."

The Pacific Electric having completed the painting of its depot and the sewer all laid, the city should now see to it that the culvert boxes are put in and that strip between Main street and the pier paved.

Marcus Howard, son of C. H. Howard of San Dimas spent a portion of Sunday in the city and attended services at the M. E. church in the morning.

George M. Gunn has traded his property in the Del Mar tract to C. H. Wilson, and will move this week to his new home at 312 Eleventh street. The I. O. O. F. lodge, No. 183, has put in place a very neat sign and emblem on its hall, with an electric light attachment, so it may be plainly seen at night.

Miss Elizabeth Harrell, Mrs. E. L. Ufford, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Howell attended the Sunday school convention at Westminster Saturday. The Baptist church of this place won the flag by having the largest number present at roll call in the morning.

C. S. Crookshank, county food administrator, was in the city Friday and selected C. W. Warner to act as city food administrator under arrangements heretofore published in these columns, and after ten days all who have not reported the amount of wheat flour on hand will be called upon to give a statement.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Rowley Drug Co. and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance: the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear; dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Adv.

CREDIT

Is the Basis of Modern Business

Law determines a man's individual rights in the courts, but a man's standing in the community is judged by his character and credit.

One is founded on training, moral strength, honesty of purpose and integrity—the other is based upon experience, industry, capacity for making money and saving it and the faith others have in him. There is no greater character moulder, or credit builder than a bank account. It means moral and mental as well as physical freedom.

YOUR RED CROSS

An Army Without a Gun

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON
Of the Vigilantes.

THE Red Cross is the greatest instrument of mercy the world has ever seen. Noble as the service of mercy and helpfulness was in Civil War days, the Red Cross surpasses it immeasurably not only in the range and variety of its effort, but in efficiency and effectiveness.

The Red Cross is, we may say, the arms of the mothers of the world reached out to their sons to bind up their wounds and comfort them. The Red Cross is an army without a gun that wages war only upon suffering and heartache. Where the flag of the stars goes there the banner of the Red Cross must fly beside it. We watch our boys go forth to war with a spirit of hopefulness because we know that this great agency of humanity presses close behind them; that its work is not incidental, but the intelligent directed effort of one of the most marvelous organizations ever contrived by American genius.

We have all contributed to the Red Cross; we shall be called upon again to contribute to its funds,—again and perhaps again. And we will respond again and yet again! For this is a war for the defense of civilization, and we of great, free, splendid, glorious America, have every intention that it shall be fought with the army of the Red Cross solidly supporting our soldiers.

STRETCHING PARIS TO MEET THE NEEDS OF FRANCE

THE RED CROSS HAS HELPED WHERE GOVERNMENTS WERE HELPLESS.

The avalanche of refugees that swept into Paris from the north of France had been the despair of the civil authorities. These homeless, stunned people were a new responsibility to be added to the thousands of wounded men that came steadily from the shambles of the west front.

Paris is an old city. It was not ready to take in its neighbors' children. Its population was already a tight fit. So it made the best of its poor hospitality by offering up its garrets. New building construction seemed impossible. Men were scarce. The mechanic was either manning the trenches or fighting the fight in the war factories. Paris was distracted.

It is wonderful indeed how nobly Paris tried to meet this condition. And it is remarkable how Paris met it with the aid of our own Red Cross. Unhindered by red tape or precedent, our Red Cross put on overalls and jumper, carried the hod, became architect, engineer and contractor and went into the building of homes. Here was a church lot that lay vacant; here an unfinished hospital; there a worn out building, all of which in a fortnight were started on their way toward new apartments, rooms and sleeping wards.

We here at home who associate the great Red Cross movement with bandages and white gowned nurses must lose this old illusion in the light of a thousand other works for humanity.

In this case we see the Red Cross first as diplomats convincing the civil authorities of Paris as to their ability to remedy the situation, then as architects remodeling buildings, changing building plans, hiring labor gathered by themselves from the ex-soldiers and the older men, all the while working under every imaginable handicap, while Father Time cried, "Get it done, get it done."

So out of the garrets came these despairing people to find new hope in clean homes, to get new cheer out of sheer bodily comfort and fresh courage to again take up the great trust that France has kept so well—"to carry on." It is not strange that our French brothers believe in your own Red Cross just a little more than you do. But should this be?

THE RED CROSS MAN

By AMELIA JOSEPHINE BURR
Of the Vigilantes.

Broken with pain and weariness
And sapped with vile disease,
Back to the land of ruined towns,
Of murdered men and trees,
Through Switzerland from Germany
The trains of wreckage ran,—
And on the French frontier they found
A Red Cross Man.

And when to what had once been home
Those haggard exiles came,
Young wheat was green above the scars
Of steel and blood and flame
Round new built houses where once more
The work of life began.
And still they found to welcome them
A Red Cross Man.

There the husband clasped again
The wife he mourned as dead—
The child was on its mother's breast,
The old were comforted.
What wonder if they hope to find
The Angel of God's Plan
Who meets them at the heavenly gate
A Red Cross Man!

A MOTHER'S PROMISE TO HER SON

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

My Dear One—I'm writing this very, very small and on the thinnest of paper, so that tightly folded it may slip into one of the olive drab pockets of your new uniform without encroaching for the tiniest part of an inch upon all the new things that you must have there—the passports and identification slips and photograph, the knife and pen and writing pad, the lists and numbers and names and ciphers, the address book and the thin manual you have been studying so hard and the slim little Bible, for this letter is a part of your equipment, too, or at least I like to think that it is.

I'm going to tell you in just one or two of the things we've been trying not to say in these last days. You've said to yourself, haven't you, that there were possibilities that I, thank God, hadn't seemed to think of. You've marvelled gratefully, haven't you, that I could say goodbye with dry eyes and talk about what we should do when the war is over. My dear, there is nothing—nothing—that can happen to you that I haven't foreseen in every detail since May, since the very beginning of it all. I know that some of our men are not going to come back. I know—as I write this in the room you love—that your fingers may fumble for this little piece of paper in some dreadful hour, a month or two months or six months from now, just to read it over once more for the last time, just to feel in your fingers out there in a shell lighted battlefield something that I have touched—for goodbye.

And thinking of all this for almost a year while you've been getting ready to go I've been getting ready to stay. Just as you planned I planned, and I said to myself: "When the time comes for us to part I shall make him a promise." Dear one, this is my promise, and I make it for the term of your own—"for the duration of the present war."

I promise you that while you are away, whether it is months or years, nothing except what I can give you and give all the others shall fill my life. I promise you that I shall devote myself, here in safety, to the work of making what you do easier and stronger and safer for you. I promise you that I shall give—and give—for the Cause! Not the money I can spare, not the time I have left when everything else is done, but all the money, all the time, all the energy I have!

Your whole life has been altered, has been set to sterner and graver music. So shall mine be. You will know self denial, privation and fatigue while the war lasts. So shall I know them. Even if black news comes, even if the blackest comes, I shall remember that against your brave heart this promise is resting, and I shall go on. And while there is one man among our million and among the millions of our allies who needs clothing and nursing and comforts and solace for your sake I shall not fail him.

Perhaps in God's goodness this note will come safely back to me in the olive drab pocket, and we will smile out it together. But, remember, until that hour comes I shall be always busy filling my own small place in the great machine of mercy and as truly under the colors over here as you are over there. God bless you!

WHEN A CUP OF COFFEE TASTES LIKE A MILLION DOLLARS

He Got His Cup and Then Went on—to Death.

Through the establishment of the line of communication canteens in France the American Red Cross is setting records in serving hot coffee, cocoa and sandwiches to the troops. One of these refreshment units made another new record recently, serving more than 50,000 meals in one week. At another a cup of coffee was served every ten seconds for a period of two consecutive hours.

In a single week these lines of communication canteens often serve 80,000 American and French soldiers.

Soldiers in Box Cars.

Do our soldiers and their allies really want this form of Red Cross service? A letter from a young American aviator, a 1917 graduate of Princeton University, is probably typical. It might be added that this man has since been reported killed after bringing down a German Taube. "A 50 mile train ride over here," he said, "instead of taking a few hours may take days. When we stop at a Red Cross canteen you can bet that a cup of coffee tastes like a million dollars."

It is not always possible for a regiment to provide sufficient food and hot coffee on these long journeys, where the men must often be packed standing into unheated box cars ordinarily used for carrying horses. So imagine for yourself the warmth, the cheer, the comfort that piping hot coffee and good sandwiches bring to our boys after a night on such a journey! You can just bet that it stiffens a man's courage. Your Red Cross is handing out this renewed courage by the piping hot cupful.

WHAT YOUR DOLLARS DO

One Hundred Cents' Worth of Mercy and Relief for Every War Fund Dollar.

Your Red Cross dollars—every cent of every Red Cross dollar—actually relieves suffering—actually goes as you give it, for war relief. Not one cent of any contribution goes into Red Cross administration expenses—the overhead of War Fund administration is more than covered by the interest accruing from the banking of the funds. All relief work not pertaining to the war is amply covered by the normal revenues of the Red Cross through membership dues.

Your answer to humanity's cry—your donation to war relief—includes not only the care and restoration of the wounded. It is a mission of mercy to the famished, the homeless and helpless, the lame, the halt, and the blind—all the victims of war that appeal to the heart of mankind.

The relief of invalided soldiers, relief of the mutilated and blind, training of crippled soldiers for useful pursuits—relief service for the care and revival of soldiers on furlough from the front—relief of children throughout devastated territory—relief of dependent families of soldiers—relief among repatriated people returning to France—children's refugees and hospitals—these are among the divisions of organized work that carries practical aid to its every object in a wide field of activity. Its scope embraces Russia, Roumania, Serbia, Italy and Armenia—besides the great field of France.

Your donation makes this great mission of mercy your own.
The Red Cross carries 100 cents' worth of aid for every dollar donated.

A RED CROSS REVERIE

By SAMUEL MERWIN
Of the Vigilantes.

We don't feel the war yet in my town. Oh, we took twice our allotment of the second Liberty loan. And a good many of the boys have slipped away (the mothers know about that). The stores are finding it pretty hard to make ends meet. We get little sugar or coal. But we still have plenty of gasoline. Some of us are looking up summer cottages, just as in other years.

Sometimes I think that our only point of contact with the truth is in the Red Cross rooms on Main street. The women crowd the place, very neat and trim in their white working uniforms. I often wonder how many of them think—see clearly, I mean, with the flashing inner eye of imagination—that every one of the pads, tampons, applicators and "four-by-fours" they make there by the thousand is to touch a wound in the body, head or face of one of our American boys.

A Garden in France.

The difficulty is we can't think it. Not quite. We still, any evening in the post office or Richardson's drug store, speak casually of this world crash as "a" or "the" war. As if it were just a war! We can't think that we are fighting not merely an army, not merely a people, but a concept that has colored and conquered the mind of a people and that is deliberately designed to color and conquer the mind of the world.

I think often of a garden in France. Outside our casement was a round fountain with a stone coping. The girls from the little school next door played their stinging games out there—"Sur le pont d'Avignon" and "Ahl mon beau Chateau." The tennis court beyond the hedge was gravel, with lines marked by red tiles sunk edgewise into the ground. Sometimes a ball fell against one of the tiles and bounced backward. The path that divided the court from the vegetable patch was shaded by apple trees trained like vines over a long trellis. The other fruit trees were trained flat against the north wall, so that each apple and pear caught the sun full and reddened there.

From our casement, too, we looked out over fountain and hedge to the gray old city spread beneath us like a relief map, the huge buff-gray cathedral with its incredibly beautiful rose window and its twin towers dominating city and countryside. There was always a scaffolding about one tower, a reminder perhaps that you can hardly expect such a structure to be completed within a mere 700 years. It is an age old growth, that cathedral, a flowering of the spirit of a race that lives, toils and worships beauty.

The Cathedral Still Stands.

The Germans haven't reached my garden yet. Not that, in this war. They were there in '71. Nor have they reached the cathedral. Not yet. The way lies through Paris and Orleans. . . . I close my eyes and try to imagine it—the old city down there a smoking ruin, the cathedral gone, the souls and bodies of those little singing girls I used to know destroyed by German soldiers. . . . That will mean, if it happens, that France has fallen. It will not happen, I think. Our boys will be standing directly in the way. They are going to try to stop the Germans with their bodies.

And so I think again of the Red Cross rooms on Main street, where the flag flies that I see every day.

We must fight to the death either over there or here. I, who am too old for the front line, must at least help to protect that old cathedral or I shall find myself fighting to protect our Main street.

But what little I can do must be done through the Red Cross. I must think of those wounds, of somebody from home lying out there in No Man's Land. It is something that the Red Cross will be there, everywhere, with stretchers and first aid and ambulances and evacuation hospitals and base hospitals. I must think, too, that the Red Cross is trying to reconstruct, now, a broken people.

I must think of the cost of all this, the heavy, interminable cost of it. And then, as I love the old cathedral and the singing little girls, who are young women now, and my own town here, whence our lot of the fighting boys are slipping quietly away, I must do what I can for the Red Cross.
I must do that.

SUPPLYING FRENCH HOSPITALS.

The Red Cross hospital supply service in France has 16 warehouses filled with drugs, medicines, surgical instruments and dressings. It serves 3,423 French military hospitals.
